MISS SHELTON

At Last Moment She Was Unable to Go to Lynchburg to Identify Assailant.

MUCH TALK OF LYNCHING

Sheriff Taking Precaution to Have Amherst Jail Well Guarded.

(Special to The Times-Dispetch.)
LYNCHBURG, VA., January 10.—Miss Gladys Shelton, the young lady who was assaulted in Amherst county Monday atternoon, was unable to come to Lynchburg this afternoon according to arrange burg this afternoon according to arrangements, on account of a temporary change for the worse in her condition. It is thought that the excitement about her home, coupled with the stream of callers on the part of neighbors, was more than she could bear. Shortly before the time for her to start on the drive to Winesap to take the train for Lynchburg & became so ill that she could not be moved. A carriage was waiting for her here to drive her to the home of Superintendent Driver, of the City Park; who is her uncle. After it was too late to start for the train Miss Shelton recovered, and it is expected that she will be brought here to-morrow.

When she can see the five negroes now in jail at Rustburg, they will be brought here and carried before her for identification. There is an air of mystery surrounding the movement of Sheriff Beard and other Amherst county officials tonight over the matter. They claim they have the man wanted, but it is known that they are still searching Amherst county for another negro. The county has been in great excitement all day, and there is open talk of lynching if the negro is identified by the girl.

If unusual precaution is not taken the negro will never have a court trial, Indeed, it would not be surroising if the case should take this turn before day-likht. The Campbell county authorities are taking no chances at the Rustburg ments, on account of a temporary change light. The Campbell county authorities are taking no chances at the Rustburg jail, and a strong guard is on duty there to-night, despite the fact that the village is quiet and eighteen miles from the scene of the crime. It is evident from the interest in the case in the city that a mob from the county would have not the slightest trouble to recruit its rank here.

CHICAGO CITIZENS CAPTURE COUNCIL

Turn Out Members with Cries of "Coward!" 'Thief!" "Robber!

The members of the crowd were protestants against the widening of Halsted Street, on the West Side, a project which has been before the Council for some time. The committee having the matter under consideration met to-day in the Council chamber, and the meeting was attended by many of the citizens interested. The committee finally voted to postpone action until June of this year. This was highly unsatisfactory to many of the citizens, who wished the matter settled at once. Cries of "Coward!" "Thiet!" and "Robber!" were hurled at the members of the committee as they hastily left the apartment. The citizens came rushing down from the galleries and poured in from the halls, taking complete possession of the chamber. They then organized a meeting of their own, and formally protested against further delay in the settlement of the question.

It may be suggested that a statement of conditions in the South and nation has no legitimate place in a report of a local Chamber of Commerce; but it should be borne in mind that our trade and commerce is far from being local in its character. Year by year it extends itself more and more throughout the nation and into foreign countries. Again, our own growth is best understood by seeing how we maintain our relation, in that respect, to the country as a whole.

NEW PRESIDENT ELECTED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

An enormous amount of work, and, as I am informed, of a most creditable character, is being done by the Jamestown Exposition authorities to make the celebration to be held there this year, as nearly as possible, commensurate with the great event the exposition was designed to celebrate. The gathering to be had in Hampton Roads of the navies of the world is a tribute of civilization to the triumphs of popular government in this country, which had its birth and was developed from the settlement in made at Jamestown in 1607.

This great historical occasion will draw to Jamestown a wast concourse of people, representing all quarters of the globe. It is, therefore, most desirable that our manufacturers make full exhibits of their products at the exposition. Unless this splendid advertising opportunity, at our very doors, is going to be sacrificed, prompt and vigorous action must be taken. The time is to short to admit of any delay. The chamber has worked dilizently and I think intelligently, to taken. The time is to short to admit of any delay. The chamber has worked diligently, and I think intelligently, to secure a full representation of our manufactured products at Jamestown, and it is to be hoped that the fruits of its labors will be made mapifest by a Richmond exhibit fully demonstrating the city's progress and importance as a centre of industry.

Output of Richmond manufactured products showed an increase in 1905 over 1995 of 113 per cent., while the average of increase for the whole country during that period was only 45 per cent.

I am satisfied the figures will show that Richmond more than maintained this relative increase for 1906 over 1905, as compared to the average increase for the whole country for that period.

Notwithstanding this gratifying expansion in business, favolving large bank loans and other forms of credit, the commercial agencies report failures in Richmond in 1906 to be so small that they need not be taken into consideration.

The report then gives in detail the official post-office statistics recently published in this paper, and proceeds:

These tables establish beyond question the gratifying fact of Richmond's rapid and substantial growth. They are the outcome of great natural advantages, utilized by enterprise and sagnetty. They constitute our city's best form of advertisement, offering strong inducement to labor and capital alike to locate here.

The appropriation of the general government, mentioned above, for enlarging our post-office building or erecting a new one, for which the Chamber worked long and earnestly, is most urgently needed already, and if the present ratio of increase in the business of our post-office be maintained, the extension of the building to Eleventh Street, so as to cover the entire block, may in a few years be an THE DOCK QUESTION.

The acquisition of the Richmond Dock by the city of Richmond, proposed by the Chamber of Commerce, and so carnestly advocated by it, is held in abeyance, pending the decision of some legal questions which have arisen in reference to the property, including the dock acquired by the bondholders of the W. R. Trigg Ship Company. While it is a disappointment that this matter, so important to the shipping interest of Richmond, has not been consummated, it should not be lost sight of, but should be revived as soon as the legal questions involved have been determined. Chamber of Commerce, and so carnestly mined.
IMPROVEMENT OF JAMES RIVER AND
INLAND WATERWAYS,

INLAND WATERWAYS.

This public work, in which the city government and the Chamber of Commerce have always felt the profoundest interest, is invested with additional interest on account of the proceedings of a large and most influential body, which assembled December 6th, in Washington, D. C., known as the River and Harbor Congress, which congress has for its object larger appropriations by the general government for river and harbor improvegovernment for river and harbor improve-ments. It is contended, and justly so, that no more important public work engages the attention of Congress and that a river and harbor bill, appropriating fifty million dollars a year should be fifty million dollars a year should be passed by each Congress for a period of ten years; that this bill should be recognized as one of first importance and dignity by our National Legislature, which has not heretofore been the case, and that the paramount importance of such a policy is emphasized by the absolute inability of the railroads of the country to handle the immense increase in production.

An influential committee of the chamber attended this conference and rendered importance service by its efforts to have the Congress act strictly within the declared purpose of the movement, namely, to advocate a larger devotion of the money of the general government in the aggregate for river and tarbor improvements, but not to advocate the claims of any particular work of improvement.

In this connection the president submitted a statement showing the cost of transportation per ton mile of railroads as compared to waterways in this coun as compared to waterways in this country; also showing the amount appropriated by the United States government since its foundation to the present time for river and harbors, as compared with similar appropriations made by various foreign States. through their offices located in Richmond. SHIPPING FACILITIES AND CONGESTION OF FREIGHT.

The business of Richmond has outgrown allie its shipping facilities and labor supply. In respect to freight, there exists an urgent need for larrer depot accommodations for package shipments and greator track facilities for carlead shipments. This applies equally to outgoing and incoming freight. The traffic bureau department of the chamber is pressing this subject on the railroad authorities, and has secured partial relief—with the promise on the part of two of the roads of permanent improvements of sufficient magnitude to afford complete relief.

SHIPMENTS DELAYED IN TRANSIT. In addition to the consection of freight at depots, etc., the delay in shipments on route has proved a most serious impodiment to business, especially to interstate business. To this subject Mr. T. P. Giles and Mr. John Donnan have siven most searching investigation. The results of which appear to be almost incredible. From a number of shipments, which were carefully tabulated, so as to avoid extreme cases, the average speed made by shipments in less than carload lots in the field of their investigation searcely equal that made by wagon trains and canal boats, in the days when rall-roads were in their infancy. To correct this trouble, a movement has been set on foot by those gentlemen which is exciting widespread interest, and which has received the endorsement of this chamber and a very large number of other organizations, including some of a national character.

It is understood that the President will accompany the report with a special message on the subject of the Brownsville incident, and from some inquiries that have been made it is expected that he will indicate that he has decided to amend the original order dismissing the battalion of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, battallon of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, so as to remove the bur against the future employment of the men in the civil service. The reason for this change is believed to be a conviction that there is a reasonable doubt as to the right of the Executive, though clothed with the power to regulate admission to the civil service, to prescribe by name individuals from employment therein.
